e-mail: stateofthedomain@snapnames.com

State of the Domain is a monthly publication of SnapNames. Reports issued at quarter's end typically address changes in the industry in greater detail. SnapNames is a provider of back-ordering and buyer aggregation infrastructures for use by registrars, resellers, and expiring name services, among others, in the secondary domain name market. At the moment, this report is limited to covering the .com, .net and .org TLDs. SnapNames compiles data in the public domain in order to present information on registrar market share as well as trends in new domain name sales versus expirations. SnapNames does not warrant the accuracy of information in this document.

All Registrars -- Market Share by Total Active Registrations

The table below shows registrars ranked by market share of current registrations as of April 30, 2001 and May 31, 2001. "Gains" refers to new additions, which may include new registrations, transfers, and renewals of existing registrations. "Losses" refers to deletions, which consists mostly of expired domains which have deleted from the zone file and domains transferred to another registrar.

Gains and Losses in Net Registrations for May 2001

This table shows which registrars are gaining or losing market share the fastest, based on net registrations (names sold, transferred in or renewed, minus expirations and transfers to other registrars) between April 30th, 2001 and May 31st, 2001. Compared to the April 2000 State of the Domain Interim Report, several new leaders appeared on the Net Gainers list: Melbourne IT (InternetNamesWW.com), discount registrar DirectNIC and eNom. For the second month in a row, deep discounter GoDaddy.com and German registrar Joker.com continued to hold their positions among the top-five fastest gainers.

While in April we saw only seven registrars slip in monthly net registration, five more registrars joined their ranks in May, including three of the Top Ten players: CoreNIC, Dotster, and OpenSRS/TUCOWS. OpenSRS, which was the leading gainer in April with over 61,000 net new registrations gained, lost nearly 6,000 names in May. VeriSign's Network Solutions exhibited an even more radical swing, losing over 112,000 in May following a gain of 46,000 in April. On June 19th, NSI announced that it was acquiring Registrars.com, with its 2.5% market share, from struggling Network Commerce (NASDAQ: NWKCD), which had bought the #7-ranked registrar just months earlier. NSI also owns #11 registrar NameSecure, with just less than 1% market share. Combined, Network Solutions therefore owns approximately 52% of the market share of total domains under registration.

Methodologies and Statistical Accuracy

SnapNames' domain name industry data is generated using domain names listed in the .com, .net, and .org zone files. Only active domain names appear in the zone file, although a domain name does not have to be attached to a web site to be considered active. It is possible that a registrar could have domain names that are on hold, or domain names that do not have name servers listed, thus causing our report-generating process not to "credit" the Registrar with such domain names. Overall industry reports are run monthly from zone files produced on the first day of each month. Because some domain names may be transferred, delete, or delete and be re-registered by another registrar while the report is being produced, it is possible for those names not to be included in the report.

Daily reports are the result of the difference between two zone files monitored 24 hours apart. A domain name typically appears on or disappears from a zone file if:

Name server changes are made during the cycle when the zone file is generated.

It was just registered and is being placed into the zone file.

Its status is being changed from Registrar or Registry "hold" to "Active".

It is being placed on hold in the normal process of expiration.

It is being placed on hold because of a dispute.

Its name servers being permanently dissociated from the domain.

Oftentimes, registrars will report larger numbers of current registrations and larger percentages of market share than the numbers shown in this report. This is because many registrars were resellers for Network Solutions or some other ICANN-accredited registrar prior to themselves becoming ICANN-accredited. In order to avoid double-counting, in the compilations you'll find in this report that each registration is credited to the actual registrar of record in the zone file, regardless of the reseller that technically sold the name and now manages the customer.
